weellenge of HARPER'S MAGAZINE, a journal with a month y circulation of about 170,000 copies, in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American people, and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number con trated with good wood-cuts; and it combines in itself the racy mouthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the creation and dissemination of a love of pure literature."-|Thub-

them to help themselves—must command our earnest sympathy and cooperation.

Doring the past year, THE TRIBUNE has provided itself with a new and faster Frees, at a cost of $50,000, merely that some of our subscribers may receive their papers a mail earlier than taey otherwise might do. With correspondents at the most important points throughout the civilized world, and a staff of writer chosen from among the best in the country, we believe that even those who dislike the polities of our sheet concede to it frainness it arowing its convictions and ability in maintaining them. We appeal, then, to those who believe that an increased circulation of THE TRIBUNE would conduce to the political, insellectual and moral well-being of the Republic, to aid us in effecting such increase. As we employ to traveling solicitors of subscriptions, we ask our present patrons in every locality to speak to their neighbors and triends in our behalf; we shall gladly receive from any friend lists of those who would receive and read a specimen copy of one of our editions, and shall be particularly grateful to those who may send as such names from past-offices at which we have now no subscribers. Whatever additions may thus be made to our circulation shall be particuled by increased efforts and expenditures to make our issues more valuable and oseful than they have hitherto been.

"THE MOST ATTRACTIVE JOURNAL."

"The most attractive journal for literary men and book collectors, which has fallen under our notice, is the New-York SATURDAY PRESS, edited by Henry Clapp, jr. This paper, although it devotes little space to critical notices, abounds in literary and scientific intelligence, matters relating to the fine arts, little of new publications in England and in the United States, &c., &c. The addition of good critical notices of new publications would make it a perfect journal of its kind."
